CURIOUS STUDENTS ARE BETTER STUDENTS

With suspicions, doubts and stereotypes keeping us apart, cross-talk coach Phillip Milano shows people how to feel at ease around ANYONE – no matter how different.

All they have to do is DARE TO ASK.

With 20,000 live student conversations and 10 million visits at DareToAks.com (formerly YForum.com), Phillip has found that opening up about the very things that ruffle our feathers is what helps us move past them.

Students laugh uncontrollably AND gain powerful new insights in an accepting space as they discuss topics like:

- What do blind people see in their dreams?
- Why do white people smell like wet dogs when they come out of the rain?
- Why do black people get to use the N-word?
- Are Asian people really bad drivers?
- Do Catholics believe in oral sex?

Phillip is a 30-year journalist who's been a breakout on BET, CBS, CNN, the BBC and FOX News with his myth-busting dialogue project, and featured in The New York Times, USA Today, Entertainment Weekly, The Atlantic Monthly, Washington Post and many more outlets.

His stirring call to action: LOVE AND RESPECT others by learning EVERYTHING about them – no matter how sensitive.
